

Published in South Africa by Lets Look (Pty) Ltd.

30 Verbenia Street, Lynnwood Ridge, Pretoria 0081, Gauteng, South Africa.

Tel: +27(0)12 361 2329/3854 Fax: +27(0)12 361 8060.

Email: imfundo@netactive.co.za Website: www.wallcharts.biz

Author: Ginny Stone (squigglez@telkomsa.net)

(Printed with soy-based inks on environmentally friendly chlorine-free paper from sustainable forestry programmes.)

Sibo Makes A Difference by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920293-80-2

Sibo is an energetic young girl who has always cared for planet but didn't realise just how bad it really was... until she met the Earthman. After hearing what he had to say, she embarks on various energy saving projects and realises that even little changes will make a BIG difference.

Sibo and the Veggie Bed by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920116-68-2

Sibo's adventures continue and this time in her own garden. Reading the paper one day she learns how to plant her own vegetables. With her father's help, she sets about making a veggie bed and eventually supplying the household with delicious and nutritious vegetables.

Sibo Saves Water by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920116-69-9

Sibo starts thinking about water and where it comes from. She realises what a precious resource it is and finds out how water gets into our homes. Her concern leads her to discover ways to conserve water around the house.

Sibo and the Sea by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920116-76-7

Sibo is so excited. She has worked hard at school and now its holiday time. Sibbo travels with her Mum and Dad to the seaside and finds that things are not what they should be. Her disappointment turns to pleasure when her father suggests solutions and spoils her with a special trip.

Sibo in Space by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920116-75-0

Looking at the stars one night with her Dad, Sibbo becomes fascinated with the planets and outer space. She sets out to find as much as she can and not only finds amazing facts, she also discovers just how fragile our planet really is.

Sibo Tackles Trash by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920116-89-7

One day an absent-minded Sibbo drops her sweet wrapper on the floor in her classroom. As punishment, her teacher tells her to remain behind at break time. Sibbo's teacher exposes the problems of littering but also tells Sibbo about recycling and how she can help keep our cities and countryside free of this messy stuff.

Sibo Thinks Positively by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920340-06-3

Sibo makes friends with a new girl who has a secret that she seems ashamed of. Sibbo's mother also makes it clear that the friendship is not on. Find out what the secret is and how Sibbo helps change her mother's misguided beliefs and shows her new friend that her secret is nothing to be ashamed of.

Sibo Sizes Things Up by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920340-40-7

Whilst doing a school project, Sibos thinks she has found just what she needs in her mum's washing detergent, but all she found was trouble. Her headmistress arranges a talk from Professor Small who explains that what she was looking for is smaller than she can see. He is an expert in Nanotechnology and takes Sibos and her friends on a fantastic adventure of the mind.

Sibo Likes Life by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920340-41-4

At school, Sibos and her friends learn a new word - biodiversity. The teacher's explanation makes Sibos concerned about the environment, but her dad comes up with a great idea to fix up the local park. The whole community gets involved and shares ideas on how it can be done. They are rewarded with a clean and beautiful space to play, have picnics, go for walks and marvel at nature's beauty.

Sibo Mixes Things Up by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-920340-41-4

Oh dear... Sibos has made a huge mess and has to clean it up before her Mum finds out. Thankfully her friend Lennie comes to the rescue and helps clean up the mess with a chemical "magic potion". A grateful Sibos becomes curious about chemicals and how they work, so her teacher invites a guest to school to tell her class all about chemistry and how it helps us in everyday life.

Sibo Saves a Stray by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-77570-116-3

Sibos is befriended by a stray dog and wants to keep it. But her mum is having none of it and the dog is taken to the pound. The man from the shelter explains the plight of animals to Sibos and how certain people mistreat them and don't seem to care. A determined Sibos does some research and gets involved in her usual way. Will she be reunited with her new friend?

Sibo Fights Malaria by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-77570-167-5

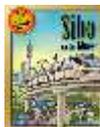

Sibos and her family are going on another holiday, but she wonders why she has to take pills before she goes there. She soon finds out that it is a malaria hot-spot and that certain mosquitoes are to blame for spreading the disease. She learns all about malaria – the severe symptoms, what causes it and how to prevent it.

Sibo Looks Right by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-77570-229-0

Sibos and her parents are leaving the shopping mall one night, when they nearly have an accident – and it wasn't even their fault! This gets Sibos thinking about road safety, so she asks her teacher to organize a talk at the school to highlight the do's and don'ts. Then, one day after school, Sibos gets a surprise visit and receives an amazing gift – something she's always wanted.

Sibo on the Move by Ginny Stone

ISBN 978-1-77570-230-6

One day at school, Miss Ball announces that she is planning a class-trip to the zoo. But that wasn't the only exciting thing – they were going there on the Gautrain!

Miss Ball explained the rules about travelling on the Gautrain, particularly the importance of manners, as well as all the amazing high-tech features – Sibos couldn't wait! Then, after raising funds for the trip with a bake sale, the class embarks on their epic adventure on the super-cool Gautrain.

